

10th European Quality Assurance Forum

Taking stock and looking forward

Hosted by the Quality Assurance Agency and UCL Institute of Education

London, United Kingdom

19-21 November 2015

Final Programme

The European Quality Assurance Forum (EQAF) provides a platform for discussion, professional development and exchange of experiences among the main stakeholders in quality assurance (QA). Specifically, the Forum will be of interest to rectors and vice-rectors responsible for QA, QA officers in higher education institutions, students, QA agency staff and researchers working on higher education or the QA field.

Through a mix of plenary and parallel sessions, the 2015 EQAF, entitled 'Taking stock and looking forward', will combine practice-oriented or research-based discussions that will take place in the paper sessions and workshops with presentations of current developments in quality assurance. The Forum provides an opportunity for participants to update their knowledge and extend their professional development.

Forum objectives

2015 marks not only the 10th anniversary of EQAF, but also 10 years since the introduction of the ESG and five years since the formal launch of the European Higher Education Area (EHEA). With the recent adoption of the revised ESG, this year presents an ideal moment to take stock of the status of European QA policies and assess their impact on all stakeholders. The Forum will examine QA in the EHEA from a variety of perspectives and explore the ways in which concrete practices in institutions and agencies reflect European level policies.

Plenary Session II: Taking Stock

Chair: Caty Duykaerts, EQAF Steering Committee

2015: it's been five years since the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) was launched. How does the EHEA look? What have we achieved and where does QA fit into this? Where are we lagging behind with respect to the goals identified? Where do we expect the Bologna Process to go next? This session will tackle these questions through a dialogue between two speakers looking at the developments through different lenses: those of higher education institutions and students using evidence from recent publications EUA's 'Trends 2015' and ESU's 'Bologna with Student Eyes'.

- Andrée Sursock, EUA
- Jens Jungblut, University of Oslo
- Discussion with the chair and the audience
- Practical information on breakout sessions
